Local Teen Slumber Party Benefits Make-A-Wish Foundation®

Charlotte, NC (September 14, 2006) – 16-year-old Bethany Lange loves to snack, dance, talk and give back to the community. She has come up with a fundraiser to benefit the Make-A-Wish Foundation of Central and Western North Carolina which incorporates all of her passions. Tomorrow, Bethany and other area teenage girls will gather at the Harris YMCA to “celebrate today (to) make tomorrow extraordinary for someone else.”

Friday’s slumber party activities include makeovers by Mary Kay, Hip-Hop class taught by instructor Adyana de la Torre, a presentation by Emily Riley, Make-A-Wish Foundation Kids For Wish Kids Coordinator, plus movies, music and snacks.

Photo opportunities are available of the participants engaging in activities throughout the night. For more information, contact Emily Riley at (704) 339-0334 x223 or eriley@ncwish.org.

About the Make-A-Wish Foundation®

The Make-A-Wish Foundation® of Central and Western North Carolina covers the state from Burlington through the 51 counties to the west, with regional offices in Charlotte, Asheville and the Triad. For more information, please visit www.ncwish.org or call 1-877-677-WISH.

The Make-A-Wish Foundation® grants the wishes of children with life-threatening medical conditions to enrich the human experience with hope, strength and joy. It is the largest wish-granting charity on the world, with 69 chapters in the United States and its territories and 27 international affiliates on five continents. With the help of generous donors and more than 25,000 volunteers, the Make-A-Wish Foundation® has granted over 141,000 wishes to children since 1980.
